| Why are you interested in serving on the Human Rights Commission? | I want to level the playing field and make life a little easier for those who have been discriminated against; and better the lives of their children and show them that their fate is not tied to their parents. I am a first-generation immigrant who witness my parents struggle with discrimination, racism, language barrier and etc. Through their life experience and my own, it has helped shape who I have become. A person who is intelligent, compassionate, educated, caring and not easily manipulated. As an employee of the county of I have worked for the DHHS as an Eligibility Specialist II; a very small stint as a Social Worker for the Housing Program; and now as the Assistant Public Administrator for the Sheriff-Coroner's Office. Being a county employee, I have first-hand witnessed the struggle of our most vulnerable resident. I would very much want to take everything that I have learned and experience and use it to help others. |
