Summarize the business/association and its activities Word Limit: 250	Seventh Wave is a 100% Latino and family owned social equity micro-business and to our knowledge, the first and only in Humboldt County. Seventh Wave is committed to the triple bottom line: make a reasonable profit, give back to the community and be environmentally sustainable. We will be licensed to: distribute, type 6 manufacture and non-store front retail and plan to create an equity/legacy supply chain throughout California from seed to sale. Our niche is in our ice water extraction for concentrates. Once Seventh Wave becomes operational and profitable, we are committed to give 1% of profit to ocean cleanup organizations and offer discounted packaging and distribution for all equity brands and companies.

Word Limit: 500	The funds if awarded would go to start up hard cost. I want to get the distribution going first so buying scales, computer equipment and stainless tables. Then moving on to more equipment for packaging. Being a social equity company there are a few grants out there. My hopes are that I will be granted multiple grants and that would save me from having to get outside investment and turning my family business to something else. I have applied for Eaze momentum Grant for 50,000 which I am hoping will buy the distribution van for me for example .

Seventh Wave being minority family owned with a legacy background understands the importance of partnerships. Originally from San Francisco and equity verified with the office of cannabis. Seventh wave has a unique advantage for shelf space dedicated for equity brands. I want to bridge the gap with legacy and equity operators to bring economic sustainable and civic impact to Humboldt county. This industry was built on the backs of people like my father and all the legacy farmers. Equity brands are doing really well on the market because the consumer is starting to get educated more and understands that equity products means you are buying a product from someone who is not new to the cannabis game. By creating that supply chain from Humboldt county to equity brands and now dispensary's in the Bay Area gives Humboldt its proper place on the cannabis quality stage. Currently I am a one man show so I plan to hire legacy operators who know what they are doing with enough skill to create a SOP not have to follow one. Being in the industry my whole life my network is pretty solid my first hire is a Hash maker from Eureka. I am also on a equity committee for a project in San Francisco. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] This is a dispensary that is going to promote equity/legacy supply chain. We are planning to designate a section for Humboldt County products highlighting legacy and equity brands. This project has many community benefits something that I would like see more of state wide.

First I would like to highlight that all of our concentrates are made with ice and water something that is very eco friendly compared to other methods One of the plans I'm working on is working with a local nursery to take the waste water for their plants. The water is rich in nutrients and good for plants Zero waste is the goal I am also in talks with a company that has the only patient to make paper out of cannabis waste They are willing to take all my plant material and my water waste as well. For the delivery vehicle I will be purchasing a electric vehicle Anything that will help the environment is my absolute goal.

As of today I was told I should have micro business license in hand before Dec 25 if not sooner. This took extensive planning. The permitting was challenging given the pandemic, but it happened and Arcata issued a permit. As far as investment my life savings. As of now I am a one man show with plans to hire one more person. I don't think I will have 20 employee but in the case that I do a Labor peace agreement will be in place. I am a second generation operator. This plant has been medicine for me, my family, and community. What I am trying to say is this plant is sacred and I consider this work to be the same. I only intend to have best practices. My business plan is in place my LLC structure is put together with a good legal team. Everything is set operating cost is what the funding will go to.
