Things are not going to get better.

A lot of hurt is coming for many species and humans regarding uncontrolled fire, need for water, and economic realities directly in rural areas and indirectly in urban areas

Many think Trump is going to fade as time goes on, but I have worked with people like Trump all my life. I see him taking on real life problems and solving many problems. As a good business person should do, he is showing political structure should change and decisions should not be made by those who have not lived in the real world.

It is time to stop have decisions controlled by the voting minority at the voting booth (influenced by the media, those with money and power, who apply legalese, gumby-ya politicial rehtoric, inexperienced and unaccountable regulators (Fourth Branch of Government)). The working, taxpaying, low to low middle income people, producing people and truths mixed with a little logic and common sense are being ignored and replaced with speculation, theory and protectionism.

If you own land in California, you are slowly losing all control of your land to an inexperienced and unaccountable Water Quality, Departments of Fish and Game, and Departments of Forestry. What is happening in California is happening all over the USA and the world.

A lot of hurt is coming for many species and humans regarding uncontrolled fire, diversity and habitats, need for water, and economic realities directly in rural areas and indirectly in urban areas
