Fixed most of my spelling errors here.

This is completely new to me. There is a lot of money at stake and only a couple sentences for each project. I'm only making the decisions based on the couple sentences. I know you know more about their needs than me. I'm not a fan of issuing a universal % cuts across the board. I think the people that do that are too afraid to make the right cuts where they need to happen, because they are trying to avoid conflict or they have other agendas. A good project shouldn't have to suffer because people are too afraid to cut a not so good project.

*I'm not sure if what the City of Arcata is asking for ($428,937), is it completely necessary? If you are looking to cut things, that may be one that I would cut completely or at least partially cut.

*I agree with the City of Eureka ($459,140) and think it should be funded fully.

*City of Fortuna could be a partial fund. Maintain a police officer assigned to the Drug Task Force, but cut the radios. Let them find another way to fund the radios. It's a small town, if they are working now, keep using them.

*City of Trinidad, you have that partially funded. How does that work? Does that still give them a deputy? If giving them a deputy allows our deputies to stay in the McKinleyville area, then I'm down for it.

*District Attorney, do they want to buy a vehicle? Just pay them millage for using their own vehicle. That should cut that down in half, at least. I would cut this completely if you needed to trim 1 million, otherwise pay them millage.

*Fire Chief's Association - Are we in that much need? If not, how can we partially fund this? If you fund is 75% you free up tons of money and they still get most of what they want.

*Humboldt Waste Management Authority - I would fully fund this. We are known for our outdoor spaces, lets keep them clean for our visitors.

*K'IMA: W Medical Center - That seems expensive. How often are they going out there. Maybe a 75% fund at most.

*Public Defender (43k) not sure about the first part, but I agree about the investigator. Do they really need new offices? Why? Maybe a partial fund.

*Public Works (1.5 million) - It's a partial fund. I would fund 1/2 of what they are asking for. Takes care of the really bad areas, everything else can wait for other funding.

*Public Works (10k) - Can't say here. How bad of a problem is this? Sounds like based on what's been allocated (1/5) you might as well cut the whole thing.

*Sheriff (1.2 million) - I would fully fund it. That is what measure Z was for to begin with.

Thanks for the involvement Ryan!

RE: Mid-Year Budget Review Department Reorganization

Dear County Supervisors:

This communication is to forward my thoughts and concerns regarding a potential reorganization/merger affecting the County Planning and Building Department.

I am not in favor of merging various Departments, or Divisions within Departments, to achieve a consolidation of services as it relates to the permitting and development process. The reasons for my being unsupportive of this concept are grounded in my 28 years of public service in local Planning Departments.

I believe the Department Head of a Planning and Building Department must have expertise in those focused fields, allowing for this position to be accessible on a daily basis. Such accessibility is crucial in order to render interpretations on County Code provisions. These interpretations and decisions must be immediate if we are to provide timely customer services. Expecting a Department Head to be proficient in the disciplines of Planning, Building, Environmental Health, Public Works Real Property Services, Roads, Parks, or other development related disciplines in order to make immediate decisions of applicability or legislative intent is misguided.

Having drafted a fair number of ordinances that have been adopted into the County Code, room was always built into ordinance language to allow for interpretation to address unique situations. It is impossible to envision every conceivable variation in the development process, and draft an ordinance that addresses every possible eventuality. Instead, it should fall to the Planning Director to evaluate a unique issue in the context of legislative intent, and allow permit applications to proceed in a timely manner. Each Department involved in the development review process has a specific mission, lead by a Department Head intimate with how individual Departmental policies fold into the overall development process.

We currently have a Planning and Building Department that has been transformed from the permitting nightmare spawned by a previous director into one much more responsive to customer service. The current Department was downsized from the cumbersome Community Development Services Department, and its mission has become more focused for staff and the public, resulting in overall improvements.

It would be wrong to merge and reorganize various Departments, or Divisions, with differing missions and policies solely to save an applicant a trip across town to meet with other Departments.

I support the current structure, culture, and administration of the Planning and Building Department, and attempting to create another Super Department for ill-conceived budget "savings" will result in unanticipated delays and inefficiencies.

Sincerely,

Joel Canzoneri

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to show support for the Humboldt Area Center for Harm Reduction (HACHR) request for grant funds from Measure Z. HACHR has been providing syringe exchange in the Eureka area since December of 2015. This no barrier exchange has allowed consumers access to clean syringes, overdose reversal kits, community health education, and resource connection. Syringe exchange has been proven to increase overall public health by reducing Hepatitis C rates, HIV rates, and emergency room visits/hospitalizations along with the reduction in costs associated with those services. In conjunction with providing access to clean syringes, HACHR's needle exchange program offers access to appropriate biohazard disposal that reduces biohazard in public spaces as well and reducing risk of potential needle stick injuries to police officers, first responders, and community members.

HACHR has been successfully collaborating with various community groups and agencies within the Eureka and larger Humboldt community, making it possible to support the needs of consumers on a variety of levels. Collaborations have included NorCAP, and AHHA. Mental health and housing referrals are made to DHHS programs such as MIST and SOS/MO. Physical health referrals have been made to the open door mobile outreach program. HACHR has worked with DHHS DRP program to provide education to consumers during DRP and AOD groups. No barrier syringe exchange allows client to access supplies to promote better health outcomes, as well as allows opportunity for health education and discussion of connection to other resources such as housing, and mental and physical health agencies.

I urge the measure Z committee to consider granting HACHR's request for financial assistance. The grant will ensure continued and enhanced no barrier, peer supported, syringe exchange and Naloxone distribution in the Eureka area.
