At 73 years of age, a hunter and fisherman, an experienced field forester, who has lived a rural life, who sees the private sector folks not given much attention, and who is a thinker, I see species and humans eventually sorry down the line. At the start of this country, I would like to believe politics played a small part, and grey haired and those without hair, middle age field experienced people who worked and took care of their families were in control. From being a thinker, I see media, politics, protectionists, preservationists, legalese, those who are well off, a timber industry that does a lousy job especially in California, and Fourth Branch of Government (Regulators who have a club) control the vote. That is the way it is in this country and the world, and that is the way it is going to be for many species and humans

As an older person, I have listed some thoughts that may interest you:

- Getting through life is not easy if you do "not" have good health. Next comes food and shelter for you and yours.
- This country and world is divided and life is not fair and balanced for everything. Being citified, I am skeptical Trump and many politicians who talk too much and who do not have to worry about the realities of life will provide needed help. I see preservationists, reservationists, protectionists, and lousy actions by the timber industry having the media, politicians, legalese, those with money, and Fourth Branch of Government (regulators) treating timbered landowners badly especially in California. As someone who has been in marijuana gardens, not accepted bribes, has had a friend killed in a marijuana garden, I believe marijuana and tourism provides short term jobs which will never replace long term jobs in the private timber industry. As a field experienced forester, I know how to properly grow a big tree, harvest this tree, and grow another big tree; know when fire is bad and it is good; and know when preservation is good, when thinning is good, and when clearcutting helps many things, and I am being ignored
- Early and later in life developing minds of mush (like mine) will not experience and will ignore unavoidable real world realities and truths. Working folks and those who provide for their families are matched against populous folks in a democracy, and I learned how a democratic republic is needed to help rural folks who are in the minority in the voting booth
- All forms of hi-tech media can be destructive or useful.
- Having been on many juries including the Grand Jury, taught at college and taught in other ways, and participated in many ways with organized and unorganized groups, I find many words and thoughts being thrown around, and it is hard to believe anything any more. I see confusing Ayn Rand and my dad who says revolution and World War III are coming being right.

By regularly giving input like at Humboldt County Board meetings, folks pay little attention to what I say. As you get older, you see many folks sorry they did not pay attention and learn from wiser, older folks.

As an old person, I have learned the following:

- Getting through life is not easy if you do "not" have good health.
- In this country and world and in many ways, we are divided:
 1. Preservationists, protectionists, and lousy actions by the timber industry have the media, politicians, legalese, those with money, and Fourth Branch of Government (regulators) treating timbered landowners (especially in California) badly.
 2. In the voting booth, working folks and those who provide for their families are matched against populous folks, and rural folks are in the minority.
 3. All forms of hi-tech media can be destructive or useful.
 4. As a field experienced forester, I know how to properly grow a big tree, harvest this tree, and to grow another big tree; when fire is bad and it is good; and when preservation is good, when thinning is good, and when clear cutting helps many things, but I am being ignored
 5. Early and later in life with developing minds of mush (like mine), many will not experience and will ignore unavoidable real world realities and truths.
 6. I am skeptical Trump and other politicians will provide needed help.
- With a lot of experience in whatever is on the plate for discussion and otherwise (been on many juries including the Grand Jury, taught at college and in other ways, and participated in many ways with organized and unorganized groups), it is hard to believe anything any more. I see Ayn Rand and her often confusing ideas, my dad saying revolution and World War III are coming, and them saying real world truths.
- Buy me a coffee, and with an open mind, seriously listen and pay attention to what many older folks like me have learned.
