DISCUSSION:

Department of Health and Human Services- Child Welfare Services (DHHS-CWS) uses the System of Care (SOC) approach with clients. The SOC approach entails a holistic approach to serving children and families including, without limitation, the following: a county wide public/private structure of agencies working together to create sustainable, beneficial and coordinated mental health services; connecting clients with community-based services and supports for families; providing individualized services in accordance with the unique needs of each client; ensuring services and supports are evidence-informed; and providing developmentally appropriate mental health services and supports.

The agreement with Progress House will assist DHHS-CWS with providing inpatient and outpatient drug treatment services. These services are essential in providing effective strategies for parents, youth, and children to achieve: safety, permanency, and well-being. This is one of several vendors used to fill this programmatic need.

With the execution of this agreement between the DHHS-CWS and Progress House, DHHS - CWS will be able to provide necessary inpatient and outpatient services to clients. As outlined in Exhibit A: Scope of Service, the county will request Progress House representative be available by phone or in person for child family team meetings at a minimum of one per client. Monthly written documentation of client's progress and coordinated outpatient / aftercare planning.
