DISCUSSION:

The attached ordinance is intended to make the county's regulations consistent with state law and to provide better public notification when there are conditions that constitute a public nuisance and code violations on property. The most controversial of the change is a state law provision that allows fines and penalties to begin to accrue at the time the Notice of Violation and Proposed Administrative Civil Penalties (Notice of Violation) is issued for cannabis related code violations. The other changes are intended to provide increased clarity to the code enforcement process.

There have been complaints and concerns expressed about real property transactions where the buyer of the real property would not have been notified of the existence of conditions constituting a public nuisance or code violations on the real property. The most efficient way to address this is to record the Notice to Abate Nuisance and Notice of Violation on the title of the property. This would allow any interested party to be notified of any code enforcement actions against the real property and to prevent public nuisance and code violations from being unknowingly passed onto the new property owners. Potential lenders will also be aware of these code enforcement actions upon title search activities. This is the change reflected in sections 351-6(c) and 352-4(c) of the attached ordinance.

The definition of Category 4 Violations is amended to reflect that all code violations as a result of or to facilitate illegal cannabis violations are considered Category 4 Violations. This is not a change from practice, it is a clarification in the ordinance.

California Government Code section 53069.4 was amended last year and became effective on January 1, 2019. Section 53069.4 provides that administrative civil penalties may begin to accrue on the date of the issuance of the Notice of Violation. California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA) has advocated for the county to implement this provision. An important tool in the county's code enforcement effort is allowing 10 days for people to come into compliance without accruing administrative civil penalties. The proposed ordinance has been written to be consistent with Section 53069.4. In cases where repeat, subsequent or ongoing code violations involving illegal cannabis cultivation, the administrative civil penalties shall commence on the date of the issuance of the Notice of Violation unless the following three specific conditions are proven: (1) tenant is in possession of the property; (2) evidence that the rental or lease agreement prohibits the cultivation of cannabis; and (3) owner or its agent did not know the tenant was illegally cultivating cannabis and no complaint, property inspection, or other information would give actual notice of the illegal cannabis cultivation. If these three specific conditions have been proven, then the recipient of the Notice of Violation will be given a reasonable time not to exceed ten (10) days to correct the code violations.

This closes a potential loophole in circumstances where a property owner or its agent, tenant, or occupier receive the Notice of Violation and the individual corrects the violations and then later return to restart illegally cultivating cannabis. Under the existing County Codes, the recipient of the Notice of Violation has ten (10) days to correct the code violations without any imposition of administrative civil penalty. This cycle could be repeated endlessly. The proposed amendment would result in imposition of immediate administrative civil penalties. This change is found in sections 352-3 and 352-5 of the attached ordinance and would allow penalties to begin to accrue upon the issuance of the Notice of Violation unless the three specified conditions have been proven.

The final amendment is to clarify the appropriate appeal process to challenge a Finding of Violation and Order Imposing Administrative Civil Penalty consistent with case law. This change is contained in section 352-13 of the attached ordinance.

FINANCIAL IMPACT:

The cost associated with adoption of the ordinance is covered by the General Fund and has been included in the fiscal year 2019-20 adopted budget. The ability to immediately impose administrative civil penalties will provide General Fund reimbursement upon receipt of the penalties.

STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK:

This action supports your Board's Strategic Framework by creating opportunities for improved safety and health and enforcing laws and regulations to protect residents.

OTHER AGENCY INVOLVEMENT:

None

ALTERNATIVES TO STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS:

The Board could choose not to approve the recording of the Notice to Abate Nuisance and Notice of Violation by Code Enforcement. This is not recommended because interested parties have no knowledge of code enforcement actions as public nuisance and code violations are identified. It is further not recommended to delay the imposition of administrative civil penalties because this postpones the recovery of costs associated with code enforcement actions.
